1. Foreword by Christine Beck

Vice President for Moot Court Competitions ELSA International 2016/2017

Dear Reader,

The International Board of ELSA for the 2016/2017 term hereby presents to you the Final Report concluding the 5th edition of the European Human Rights Moot Court Competition.

The European Human Rights Moot Court Competition works as a unique contribution to university curricula in helping students understand the principles and implementation of Human Rights. Through the European Human Rights Moot Court Competition ELSA wishes to answer to the need for an English language moot court competition on Human Rights voiced by students across Europe. We wish to enable law students to deepen their understanding of law and practice their skills outside of the lecture halls of their universities and in an international environment. Participation in a competition such as the Human Rights Moot Court will help them build a professional profile already during their studies and prove their skills immediately upon entering professional life. The trend concerning the functioning of the European Human Rights system is to increase the role of national courts in these matters and to reduce the case burden of the European Court of Human Rights. As a consequence, Council of Europe member states will need lawyers with a strong command of the European Convention on Human Rights and its implementation on national level. The European Human Rights Moot Court Competition is a project with a significant impact on the way future lawyers understand and apply the European Convention on Human Rights.

I could not imagine a more rewarding moment for the head of the organization of this Competition than standing in the middle of the Salle d'Audience while addressing Judges, Ambassadors, Lawyers and other distinguished guests, and most importantly students from 13 different countries that participated in the Competition. We could observe their development from the first day of the Preliminary Rounds until their Grand Final performances. You can see with your own eyes the impact that the Competition has in real life, how we are accomplishing all our goals and providing them with a platform to future develop their legal and practical skills in an international environment. In the Competition, we always have a winner. However, it is not about winning, it is about being brave enough to compete. Therefore, I would like to once again congratulate all the teams for being so brave and dedicated – you are all winners!

The 5th edition of the European Human Rights Moot Court Competition gave us a number of over 90 teams registered for the Competition, from 30 different countries, from which the best students arrived in February to the home of Human Rights, Strasbourg, to participate in the Final Round. The Competitions Final took place from the 12th until the 16th of February 2017, with more than 75 participants in total from 13 different countries. We are very grateful towards all 30 of the Competition's Judges, who shared their experience and challenged the teams in order for students to reach and cross their limitations. We were honoured for having with us members from the European Court of Human Rights, alongside members of EHRA, lawyers from the Court, Council of Europe and representatives of the Permanent Representations to the Council of Europe.

The Council of Europe has been from the beginning the biggest partner and supporter of the Competition. We are very honoured and proud of our strong partnership. We would like to especially thank Ms Barbara Orkwiszewska and Ms Sophie Lobey for an incredible amount of help, assistance and guidance throughout the whole 5th edition of the Competition.

The European Human Rights Moot Court Competition cannot take place without our sponsors, and we would therefore like to express our gratitude towards the Cypriote, English and the Turkish Permanent Representations of the Council of Europe. I would also like to thank the European Human Rights Association, who not only provided us with this editions' case and the major part of the Jury, but also with help and guidance throughout the preparation process.

Lastly, I would like to thank my outstanding Director Nihat M. Cingöz and my Assistant Mark O'Reilly for their very hard work and dedication, the most supportive Board of mine and also representatives of ELSA Strasbourg – all in all, the whole Organizing Committee. I could not handle the organization of the Competition without you. I appreciate all the immense efforts that you made during the Final Round in Strasbourg. Thank you for making this Competition another success.

It was an honour to fully work for one year on the organization of the 5th edition of the European Human Rights Moot Court Competition. I would like to thank once again everyone involved in the Competition and all the teams participating in it. It was a pleasure together with all of you to strengthen the understanding in Human Rights and to educate young lawyers in this particular field of law. Thank all of you for being a part of this journey.

Warm wishes,

2. Overview of the competition

The fifth edition of the European Human Rights Moot Court was launched on the 4th of August 2016. The Case was written by Slavica Curic and Zuzana Kovalova from the European Human Rights Association. Though being a fictitious case, the core of the case was based on real cases happening all over the world. The clarification questions from the teams regarding the case were sent in and published during October, and the team registration was open until the 6th of November 2016. The competition is twofold – firstly, there is a Europe-wide written phase in which the teams send in Written Submissions for the Applicant and the Respondent. The Final Round is the last stage of the Competition, where the best twenty teams selected through the written part compete against each other.

The Final Round of the 5th EHRMCC took place between the 12th to the 16th of February 2017. The Final Oral Round commenced with an Opening Ceremony at the residence of the Ambassador of the Permanent Representation of the United Kingdom to the Council of Europe in Strasbourg. All pleadings took place at the Council of Europe and the European Court of Human Rights venues. The Competition is a unique opportunity for students to gain practical experience comparable to real pleading in front of the European Court of Human Rights, while they are presenting their arguments for both sides of the case in front of the best human rights experts. Since, one of the selected teams did not arrive on time for the Final Oral Round, 20 teams were competing with each other in 5th edition Finals. The quarterfinalists were announced during the Reception generously hosted by the City of Strasbourg in a breath-taking venue of Hotel de Ville. The Grand Final between 2 teams took place in the Salle d'Audience, the biggest court room in the European Court of Human Rights building. The winners were announced by Judge Serghides the Chairman of the EHRMCC Jury, and awarded prizes together with the Deputy Secretary General of the Council of Europe, Gabriella Battaini-Dragoni. An Award Reception was hosted by the Cypriote Permanent Representation to conclude the Final Round.

The case and all other important documents of the fifth edition can be found and downloaded on the new website www.ehrmcc.elsa.org.

3. The Written Round

In order to qualify for the Final Oral Round in Strasbourg held at the European Court of Human Rights, the teams dispatched their Written Submissions both for the Applicant and the Respondent.

The Jury, consisting of Human Rights experts from all over Europe, was assessing Written Submissions from November to December in order to select the 20 best teams, that were announced on January. Each Written Submission has been scored by two different Judges. Out of over 90 teams which completed the registration procedure, 68 sent their Written Submissions.

The Announcement of Finalists took place in January 2017.

The following table indicates the scores and the ranking of each team.

The Overall Score is calculated as follows: (Average Scores Applicant Written Submission + Average Scores Respondent Written Submission – Penalty Points) divided by 2.
