Purpose of this Open Call

→ Structured mid-term reflection on the ongoing work.

Goal:

- Understand how initial plans have unfolded in practice
- Identify emerging challenges and opportunities
- Adjusting focus and priorities

Revisiting the One-Year Operational Plan

Please reflect on:

- The main objectives and priorities you identified at the start of the term
- The key activities or strategies you planned to pursue

Progress and Achievements to Date

- Which objectives or activities from your Operational Plan have been completed or are currently underway?
- Key outputs, outcomes, or early impacts achieved so far?
- Processes, collaborations, or approaches that have functioned particularly well?

You may also include achievements that were not explicitly planned but emerged naturally during the term.

Objectives Postponed or Not Implemented

- Which planned objectives, activities, or milestones were postponed, scaled back, or not pursued?
- The main factors influencing these decisions (e.g. timing, resources, external conditions, relevance)?
- Whether these elements are still relevant for the remaining of the term, or if they should be reconsidered?

Key Learnings so far

- Key lessons learned so far
- What has proven more challenging or more effective than anticipated
- What you would approach differently if starting the term again today?

Looking Ahead: Priorities for the Remaining

Term

Please outline:

- Your main priorities for the rest of the term
- Planned adjustments to objectives, scope, or methods
- Any support, resources, or structural changes that would enable you to move forward more effectively

Best of luck for your next projects (that I hope to hear about through the Competitions Specification Form)

C youuuuu!
